78-3-23.

Dun & Bradstreet Companies, Inc.

299 PARK AVENUE · NEW YORK, N.Y. 10017

CHARLES WIELGUS
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT
TEL.(212) 593-6901

March 17, 1978

Admiral Stansfield Turner U.S.N.
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Dr. Turner:

Honorary degrees, although very seldom sought, are always appre-ciably received because they normally represent the highest honor a college can bestow. It is with this sense of appreciation that I have agreed to ask you, a fellow recipient of such an honor from Bryant College, to join in supporting its 1977-78 Annual Fund Campaign.

You and I have every reason to be proud of Bryant's achievements.
It now has a full time enrollment of about 2,730 fine young men and women and I understand the intention is to maintain this level during the years ahead. Accounting, Economics, Finance, Marketing and Management are the major fields of study.

Total enrollment in the Evening School and Graduate School is 2,370.
New graduate degree programs are now being considered, possibly in taxation and hospital administration. The Center for Management Development is obviously fulfilling a need. There are at least one hundred and twenty programs designed to provide continuing education for managers and professionals given annually in workshops and seminars both on and off the campus.

A new three million dollar dormitory to accommodate the demand for more on-campus living will soon be built.

This year the Annual Fund Drive is for an endowed scholarship fund.
Over sixty-five percent of the student body is receiving some type of financial aid. Please join me in contributing to the aid of these students who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

Dr. William T. O'Hara sends his best wishes and extends to you a warm welcome to visit the campus anytime you are in the vicinity of Providence.

STAT

Sincerely,

Charles Wielgus

CW:km Enc.

It was an honor sharing the dais with you last May. I also enjoyed your talk at the Harvard Club in N.Y. earlier this year.